COMPANY HISTORY

ULSTER CARPETS

Est. 1938

BEHIND THE BRAND

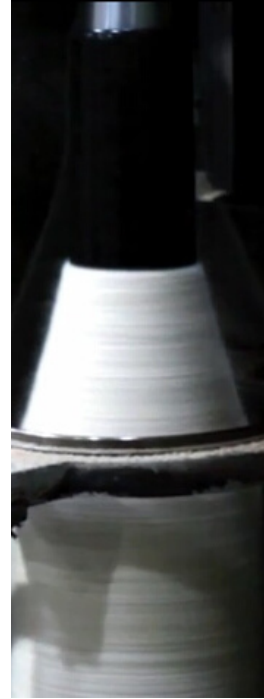

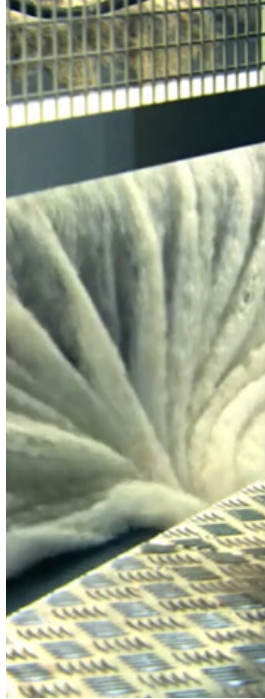

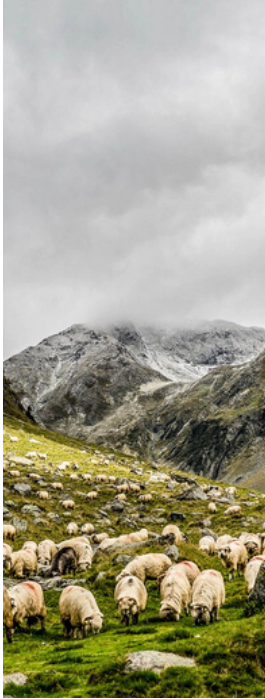

Ulster Carpets was founded by George Walter Wilson in Northern Ireland in 1938 and is still privately owned by the founder's family. Ulster has taken the positive attributes associated with being a family business and combined them with a forward thinking, global approach to business. The result is a technologically advanced, service driven company with flair, flexibility and a passion for quality...

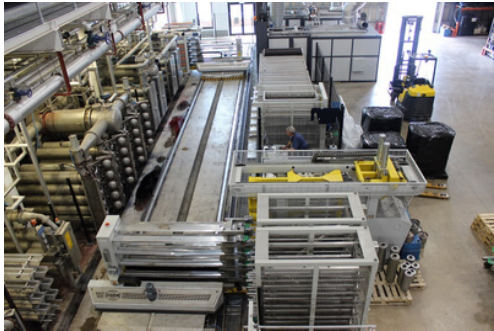

AS THE LARGEST SINGLE SITE PRODUCER OF AXMINSTER AND WILTON CARPET IN THE WORLD, WE HAVE BEEN PRODUCING THE HIGHEST QUALITY CARPETS SINCE 1938

MANUFACTURING IN THE UK & IRELAND SINCE 1938

It is the dedication of the people at Ulster combined with the commitment to local manufacturing which ensures only the finest carpets bear the Ulster name. Every part of the manufacturing process is managed within the UK, from the processing of the wool at Ulster Yarns (Dewsbury), through to dyeing, weaving and finishing at Castleisland. This level of control results in the unrivalled quality of an Ulster Carpet.

ULSTER & THE ENVIRONMENT

Ulster Carpets is committed to achieving the highest levels of environmental protection and long term sustainability. Here are some of the actions we have taken:

-  We are accredited to ISO 14001: 2015 Environmental Management System.
-  Entered into a UK government Climate Change Agreement, committed to reducing our energy consumption.
-  Reduced our carbon footprint by 50% and are committed to reducing this further.
-  Diverted 100% post industrial waste from landfill through effective segregation and sourcing the best next step, some of which include:
 - Carpet Waste for energy recovery
 - Cropper Dust used for composting
 - Yarn used for rug making
 - Cardboard & Plastic for reuse and recycling
