

COLOUR REVOLUTION

During recent years, many of us have embraced neutrals and greys when designing our homes.

Grey is the most incredibly good colour for your rooms,' explains Laurence Llewelyn-Bowen 'But the thing is, you just don't stop there, grey is about bone structure and once you've got a grey room you've then got to add colour and personality to it.'

'It is about bringing colour back into our interiors because it's about fun. I want people to understand that expressing your personality through the place you live is extraordinary,' he says.

Take a look at some of our top colour picks to help add some personality to your home.
